

We definitely need more Low Power FM radio stations to support local discussion and culture and to develop local radio talent. Low Power FM will allow youth and elderly to participate in their communities more effectively thereby cutting down on loneliness and substance abuse. The mass culture represented by 'translators' is everywhere already, yet people are not happy. What are needed are Low Power FM stations managed by 4H groups, RSVP groups, garden clubs and unincorporated advocacy groups. Their programming will be genuinely to me and my neighbors. Therefore I recommend you rule that truly local applicants be given a frequency always before 'translators'. Thank you.
